

Dear Young America,

I am about ready to turn this world over to you. I am old.

I have just given you a precious gift -- that you do not yet appreciate.

I have given you a future with a real chance to be able to get a job, buy a new home, raise the family of your choice in a safe environment, and to be able to practice whatever religion that you choose.

There are some things that I will pull-back from your current life-style: killing babies, pedophilia, open borders, sloppy visa entry system, political corruption, election fraud, and many other activities that have been allowed to blossom and infest our beautiful land.

There are some things that you currently prefer, that I will allow you to continue to pursue: same-sex marriage, eliminating racism, eliminating sexism, eliminating discrimination in all forms – particularly toward your sexual preference.

Bottom-line: if you are an American Citizen you are in very good shape. If you are illegally in this country, you may have a problem. If you are an illegal alien and a criminal, you are in big trouble.

I am giving you this gift – as the last thing to do from my bucket list.

I have voted for Donald J. Trump.

You are welcome,

With Love,

Grampa.
